The following was compiled by myself and downloaded from the E-mailing list called Clocks.

Manual wind Omega watches are not that unusual. There have been (hammer) autowinders from the thirties and also manual winds were produced in the seventies. A good beginning source for the ID and approximate value of the Omega watch is Cooksey Shurgatr/
R. Gilbert Complete Guide to Watches.

The following list contains approximated dates:

(The serial number can be found on the movement.)

Date - Serial Number

1970 - 26,000,000
1964 - 20,000,000
1955 - 15,000,000
1945 - 13,000,000
1933 - 11,000,000
1925 - 9,000,000

I want to thank the mailing list Clocks for providing me with the above information.
