UK Colleges

The following colleges offer a 3-year full time course in Horology, consisting of Preliminary, Intermediate and Final grades. Three subjects are studied in each grade: Theory of Horology, Technical Drawing and Practical work. Additionally, students in the last two years submit a portfolio of work that they have carried out during their studies. Examinations in all subjects are taken in May of each year. If you are interested in taking part-time courses, please apply to the college for further details
